PROFILE

Kent Pritchett is a colorist of rare range equally at home on a multimillion-dollar blockbuster, a streaming series, documentary, or TVC. His career has taken him from the Studios of Hollywood to Industrial Light & Magic in San Francisco – where he graded the restored Star Wars Trilogy and Episode III: Revenge of the Sith alongside George Lucas – then to Autodesk as the Global Lustre Application Specialist – and ultimately to Australia. He remains one of the most sought-after colourists in the region.

His credits span the full spectrum of the industry: features including The Fall Guy, Sleeping Dogs, and Godzilla v Kong: Supernova; documentary films earning Sundance Grand Jury Prizes (Boys State, The Force, The Overnighters) and an Oscar nomination (Facing Fear); and Disney's Paperman, which took home the Academy Award for Best Animated Short. His most recent credits are Mosquito Bowl for Netflix, Monarch: Legacy of Monsters for Apple TV, and Extraction 3 (currently in production).

Kent also serves as the primary colorist and look development lead for MasterClass – shaping the visual identity of a platform that has featured the world's most celebrated artists, athletes, scientists, and thinkers.
