About Me

Alyssa Sandilands is an emerging filmmaker specifically specialising in Art Assistant roles. She has gained this passion through the study of Film and Art in high school, which led to her studying film at university and receiving a Bachelor of Film and Television at JMC Academy in 2025. Alyssa has had lots of on set experience whilst studying and is now searching for more professional work experience in the industry. She looks forward to exploring each aspect of the production design and art department process and would love to be considered for any upcoming productions.
